DOC TALK

Gerald Pierone, M.D.

As Dr. Rodriguez was unable to submit a column for this issue I am re-running one that Dr. Pierone wrote last year, which bears repeating at this time.

Welcome to Melanoma Land!

You won't find this caption displayed anytime soon on Florida tourism posters but summer is here and so are more of the damaging ultraviolet rays that promote skin cancer. Although sun-worshippers might beg to differ, there is no question that the Florida sunshine should be consumed in moderation.

Why the concern about sun exposure? In one word – melanoma. Of all types of skin cancer, melanoma is the most feared. If the diagnosis is delayed, melanoma has the potential to spread to distant sites and can be deadly. More than 44,000 people are diagnosed with melanoma every year in the United States and the rates have more than doubled over the last 20 years.

Melanoma is largely preventable because most cases are related to excessive sunlight exposure. People with fair skin and freckles are at higher risk, but melanoma can occur in anyone. The basic principles of prevention include limitation of sun exposure during peak UV hours (10am to 4pm), regular use of sunblock with sun protection factor (SPF) of 15 to 30, and use of sunglasses and wide-brimmed hats.

Despite our best intentions, melanoma is not always preventable. Studies have shown that risk of melanoma may actually be most closely related to sun exposure and sunburns that occur during childhood. We can't go back and reverse our childhood and adolescent sun exposure, but can practice active surveillance of suspicious skin lesions as adults.

The hallmarks of melanoma are a dark spot on the skin which has irregular borders, variable color, size more than 6mm, and is asymmetric. Rapid growth in size is also worrisome. Since it may be difficult for even an experienced doctor to identify melanoma correctly it may be best for those at higher risk to see a dermatologist for regular skin examinations. Some people are at much higher risk of melanoma because of family history and may benefit from regular skin examinations and total body skin photography.

One must keep the risks of excessive sun exposure in perspective. After all, many of us chose to live in Florida precisely because we enjoy sunshine, water sports and activities. The key is moderation and sensible precautions, then go ahead and catch those rays.

Dr. Pierone has been in private practice in Vero Beach, Florida since 1990. He specializes in the treatment of HIV and hepatitis C, and is actively involved in research. He is also the founder and medical director of the AIDS Research and Treatment Center of the Treasure Coast, a not-for-profit HIV clinic located in Ft. Pierce, Florida. Dr. Pierone is also co-host of an expert forum on www.thebody.com regarding HIV treatment.

It's time to shift gears this month. The combination of Venus going into cancer on the 7th, Mercury going retrograde on the 9th, Mars going into Virgo on the 10th and both the full moon on the 29th and new moon on the 15th being void of course, it's time to go to work and clean things up. Because of these planetary aspects it is not a month to start something new however, it's a great time to finish all the loose ends from your past both mentally and physically. Go with the flow, you may have to take 2 steps backward to gain 3 steps forward. If you do, when Pluto goes direct on the 30th, you will be freed from the situation.

Aries Cleansing your home and family will be the focus for you this month. Find an emotional comfort zone to work in. Remember, nothing is urgent but it must be addressed and attended to. So run if you must, but remember to figure out what you need to do and return to fix it.

Taurus Now is the time to clear up those disagreements with friends and family. They will understand your point of view. The work you have put into your career will now come to fruition. This is not the time to stuck with your regular routine. Take advantage of the freedom you have this month.

Gemini With Mercury going retrograde, it is not the time to get into any power struggles. You will not win. Slow and steady should be the operative words to remember for this month. Balance your time between work and relaxation or you will burn yourself out.

Cancer Your finances are in great shape. It's a good time for your investments to pay off or receive additional monies. Your personal values are strong. You will feel a need to express them. Make sure you wait until the appropriate moment. Timing is important this month.

Leo Happy solar return! This is your time to shine. Do something you have never done before but always wanted to do. Act upon your desires and pamper yourself. Relax now because after the 24th, when mercury returns to your sign, you'll find yourself wrapped up in your work.

Virgo Change is in the air for you especially in your personal life. Relationships are being tested. You are going through a cleansing cycle this month. Your senses are refined. Use them to clean up the things you should have long ago. Remember it's all for the best in the long run.

Libra Start looking at how to organize your time better. The scales are still imbalanced this month. You have to physically work at creating your objectives and goals. The good thing is you have the ability to construct your life to your specifications.

Scorpio Your career is going strong. Here is where you are achieving your goals. Take a break this month. Those personal agreements have still not resolved themselves. Ask more questions and get closer to the facts. Play and have some fun. All will work itself out in it's own time.

Sagittarius You have neglected your work and now it is time to go back. Keep your eye on your long-term goals. Besides your personal life is a little challenging this month. On the 30th Pluto will finally go direct in your sign. Then you will see the changes you have been looking for.

Capricorn Balance and open communication are your focus for this month. Take the extra time to make sure you are understood. Remember you are not always the one in charge. In working with others, learn how to compromise. You will find that it will make life easier.

Aquarius With the blue moon at the end of last month your emotions have been set free. Your social and romantic life is heating up. You are looking at your relationships in a more serious tone. Remember to take some time to relax and gather your thoughts this month.

Pisces Your social appearance is extremely important this month. Use your chameleon- like personality to make sure you leave the right impression. You will have a more serious tone to your emotions. Relax, lighten up, it's only an illusion. Once Mercury goes direct the heaviness will go away. ▼

For those who want to know: A void of course moon is best described by the moon stopping for a second to take a breath when going from one sign to another. During that time for us on Earth, everything seems to come to a stand still. It is a matter of a short time so most of us strike it up to the frustration of the day.

Our new subscriptions are proving somewhat popular, eleven so far – just go to our web site and click on subscriptions to access an electronic form. Please note that it costs a fair amount to mail out magazines, so prompt payment is really appreciated. For the 6 who haven't paid yet, your subscription is now over – until payment is received. Now if you don't have web access and would like to receive Out on the Coast magazine mailed directly to you, in a plain envelope, send your check or money order for $24 (for 12 issues) made out to Out on the Coast magazine and mail it to 4445 A1A, Suite 200, Vero Beach, FL 32963.

I hear from Reverend Mark Osdras that there's lots going on up in Cocoa at the Family of God in Christ Community Church. I was hoping to have some hot gossip about their expansion plans, but it didn't make it in time. I do know there's talk of a resale shop among other projects. I guess you'll just have to show up at the benefit for Greg Edwards at The Cold Keg on August 8th to get all the details on what's happening in Cocoa, as they are car-pooling down after services that Sunday.

Sunday, July 31 is the last day of the Brevard Together Yahoo! Group. BT is migrating totally to their new web site, www.gaybrevard.net, no more newsletter and no more Yahoo group as of August 1. The board hopes this change will help revitalize BT. Some members don't think so, but with so few willing to participate at the board level something has to be done to lighten the load for their leadership. Unfortunately, checking the site on July 25, it appears not to have been updated since June (it says they are waiting for a volunteer for a July potluck) and there are no events listed at all for August. Note to members: if you want to check the calendar in on-line form – not pdf – do it before you log in as you apparently can't after you log in! It's really a shame that the only inclusive GLBT social group in Brevard can't seem to regain its former vitality.

Brevard women seem to have kept it together, though – I hear the Brevard Lesbians are going strong (I'm not on the list, not being a lesbian, don'tcha know) and I do know that Colorful Ladies in Town is going strong. I am an honorary CLIT for some graphics work I did, but you don't have to be to attend their annual free Beach/BBQ party Sunday, August 15, at Shepherd Park in Cocoa Beach, which is open to everyone.

Nautical Jack's is trying something for everyone. In addition to their new buns/bulge contest on Fridays, they're adding a leather night on Tuesdays and country and western on Thursdays. Along with the new art on the walls, a little paint and a great staff it all adds up to Nautical Jack's is developing nicely as a hangout. The XPLRM Forum is starting out slowly, but there's nothing like it around here: a place for guys to go and talk about whatever. Stop in any first or third Tuesday evening and meet Ed and chat – in person for a change of pace!

The pace will be full tilt at the benefit is for Greg Edwards, AKA Moose, AKA Scoobydoo420s at the Cold Keg Sunday, August 8. Buffet starts at 6:30 and the show at 8 featuring the Melbourne's own Roz Russell and the one and only Kelli Randell. Start shopping now for your new PJs for Cold Keg's August 14th Bedtime Stories II Pajama Party – the best one wins $100. Frilly, silly, sexy or outrageous, be there to see who wins!

I've always said how lucky Vero Beach is to have their PFLAG chapter. Now some people from that group are getting together to form a new AIDS support group to help AIDS sufferers and their families in new ways. I remember when we, with the help of a few good doctors and nurses, had to care for sufferers of what was initially known as GRID5. Then when government money finally became available and the name lost the Gay and (more accurately) became known as AIDS the health care professionals took over and many people came to make a good living caring for AIDS sufferers. Now the government money is drying up and the health care professionals seem to be going away as well, so in Indian River County at least, our community is stepping back up to the plate.

There is new meat in the Nest at the Błrd Cage, check their photos and stay tuned as I hear some Brevard meat, I mean faces may soon be taking a turn on the boxes. Last Sunday was another legendary Club Błrd Cage customer appreciation family day. Fun & games for the whole family – and a new take on drag races, but too late for photos for this issue. As a warm up for Mr. Błrd Cage Pageant, the J'ville Kings male impersonation troupe will be at Club Błrd Cage on Friday, August 6. It's interesting to note that the male impersonators tend to be groups rather than individuals, can you image a troupe of drag queens? The size of the required dressing room and the "discussions" over who would sing the lead in each number would be mind boggling for sure! You can check out the troupe on the 6th and individuals at the contest two weeks later on Friday, August 27. An interesting first for Club Błrd Cage!

The latest change at VIP's is that Tone is no longer on staff. There's still ladies night on Mondays, Queer Eye on Tuesdays, Wednesdays are now hump day, Thursdays are Men's Night Out and of course Danielle and guests put on a fantastic show on Fridays. If you haven't caught Mother's act, make sure to stop by when she's scheduled. A new face, so to speak, with a great presence and hilarious numbers, she's no spring chicken and makes a great contrast with Danielle's generally high energy, high style numbers.

Vote '04 A Change tidbit: 7/13/2004: Republican National Committee Chairman Ed Gillespie today announced the leadership of the Republican National Convention's 2004 Platform Committee. Senate Majority Leader Bill Frist will serve as Chairman of the 2004 Platform Committee.

6/30/2004: Focus on the Family Vice President Bill Maier applauded Senate Majority Leader Bill Frist for his statements Sunday on ABC's "This Week" in support of the Federal Marriage Amendment (FMA). FMA would restrict the courts from defining marriage as anything other than between one man and one woman. See this issue's back page for the Democratic National Party Platform Committee position. ▼

Spiritually Speaking

Family of God in Christ Community Church continues to serve our Christian Community in Central Brevard.

You may view their worship and ministry schedule at www.familyofgodbrevard.org or contact them at familyofgodbrevard@yahoo.com

HAZY DAYS OF SUMMER

Remember the early days of childhood when we'd always look forward to the refreshment of summer holiday? The vacations, the picnics, camping and other fun times could fill our summer days.

Its important for us to celebrate our short lives here on earth with the refreshment of relaxation, friends, and sometimes, to just "get away" from our daily struggles and stressors.

Our Savior Jesus would stop all he was doing and take time regularly to "re-group" and pray; to refresh his mind and heart and before continuing his ministry to others.

At times we get caught up in the demands of life. Little by little we feel ourselves being chiseled at and we loose our personal focus of who we are as individuals. Sometimes as a community we focus too much on the negative stressors of our lives which can only diminish the positives we have surrounding us.

We need to claim the freedom to prioritize our schedules. We need to put a bit of time aside for ourselves in order to be an effective person. In this way we also nourish our self worth as a person.

Even in the ministry of the church, we can sometimes get caught up in the trivialities of ministry, and loose focus on what is truly important – making time spent in "retreat" important and vital.

It is my hope and prayer that you are able to refresh yourself in the gift of God's creation. Take time to celebrate the wonderful peace of nature. Enjoy the fellowship of good and positive friends. Nourish yourself - body, mind and spirit - with love, peace & safety.

God's blessings to you and to those you love!

Rev. Mark Osdras, Pastor

from the 2004 Democratic National Platform Committee Report:

"We support full inclusion of gay and lesbian families in the life of our nation and seek equal responsibilities, benefits, and protections for these families. In our country, marriage has been defined at the state level for 200 years, and we believe it should continue to be defined there. We repudiate President Bush's divisive effort to politicize the Constitution by pursuing a "Federal Marriage Amendment." Our goal is to bring Americans together, not drive them apart.

We will honor our nation's tradition of equal justice under law. President Bush and Attorney General Ashcroft believe they can claim powers above and beyond the law of the land. As Democrats and Americans, we yield to no one in our commitment to do everything necessary to win the war on terror. But we can and must win that war without sacrificing the values we are defending. America must be strong and free."
